Dr Thomas W. Martens is a board-certified staff internist at Park Nicollet Clinic in Minneapolis, MN, and serves as a medical director at the International Diabetes Center at Park Nicollet Clinic and HealthPartners Care Group, as well as a research investigator at HealthPartners Institute. In addition to maintaining an active internal medicine practice, he serves as principal investigator or co-investigator on a number of ongoing hybrid closed-loop insulin delivery studies, as well as studies involving the use of continuous glucose monitoring (CGM) technology in Type 2 diabetes. He is particularly interested in the translational aspects of implementing diabetes technology in a primary care setting and has presented locally and nationally on the use and interpretation of CGM data in primary care.

Dr Martens attended medical school at the University of Wisconsin and completed an Internal Medicine residency and chief residency year at Hennepin County Medical Center in Minneapolis.
